WISCONSIN'S LEADING CONSTRUCTION ASSOCIATION ELECTS DAVE RILEY PRESIDENT

KENOSHA, Wis. – (February 17, 2011) – Dave Riley, president of Kenosha-based Riley Construction, has been elected president of the Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Wisconsin's Board of Directors for 2011.

"It is an honor to be elected by my peers to lead this organization during what could be a critical turnaround period for Wisconsin's construction industry," says Riley. "There's still a bumpy road ahead of us, but I am optimistic about the future and the key role AGC will play during my tenure."

Riley Construction has been an active member of AGC since 1971 active in various leadership capacities, and Dave has been on the Board for five years. He has served in numerous other capacities to advance the construction profession throughout Wisconsin, including as past-president of the Tri-County Contractors Association.

Riley has been in the construction business virtually his whole life. His father Charles started Riley Construction in 1965 and the company has been family-owned ever since. Today, Riley serves as majority owner and the company's chief executive. In this role he is responsible for providing strategic direction and leadership necessary to deliver superb customer service and client satisfaction by implementing best practices and maintaining consistency across the company's business operations.

Riley is a graduate of Arizona State University with a bachelor's degree in Construction Management. He maintains a steadfast commitment to the community and advancing the construction industry by serving on numerous boards, currently including the Johnson Bank Advisory Board. Riley is also president of Bethany Lutheran Church in Kenosha and further supports community organizations such as MargaretAnn's Place, Shalom Center, and Boys & Girls Club/CYC Sports through various board/committee activities and contributions.
