RILEY CONSTRUCTION HIRES NEW MARKETING DIRECTOR

KENOSHA, Wis. – (July 16, 2008) – Riley Construction Company enhances its marketing capabilities by hiring Scott Gurholt as marketing director.

As marketing director, Gurholt brings more than 10 years of infrastructure engineering and construction industry, and marketing communications experience to the position. He will be responsible for directing the marketing operations for Riley Construction, including strategic planning, pursuit tracking and proposal development, public relations, advertising and promotions, client satisfaction initiatives, and implementing best management practices for marketing efforts and business development.

Previously Gurholt served as a marketing team leader with HNTB Corporation where he led strategic marketing initiatives for transportation and water/wastewater infrastructure projects within a 10-state region. He has also served in account executive and corporate communications positions within the advertising/public relations agency and corporate environments.

Gurholt earned his Bachelor of Science degree in journalism, with an advertising/public relations emphasis, from the University of Wisconsin Oshkosh. He is a member of the Public Relations Society of America and has served in various committee leadership and support positions for the Southeastern Wisconsin Chapter.

One of the largest contractors in southeastern Wisconsin, Riley Construction Company, Inc. is headquartered in Kenosha, Wis., with permanent offices located in Milwaukee and Lake Bluff, Ill. Riley Construction provides construction management, preconstruction, design/build and general contracting services across a wide range of markets, including healthcare, municipal, commercial, industrial, public/recreation and education.
